

Biography

Dr. James B. Rieley is an advisor to CEO's and senior leadership teams in both Europe and America. Rieley, who has a doctorate degree in Organisational Effectiveness, additionally has a B.S. in Business Administration, and was the president of a successful plastics manufacturing company for over 20 years. After selling his company in 1987, he began to work with organisations in the area of innovation and business organisation.

He has written extensively on the subject of organisational behaviours, being an ongoing columnist for the Daily Telegraph (London), and having been published in 'The Journal for Organisational Excellence,' 'The Journal for Employee Communications Management,' 'Community College Journal,' 'Quality Progress,' 'The Systems Thinker,' 'National Productivity Review,' 'The Business Journal,' 'Corporate Reports Wisconsin,' 'Leverage,' 'On The Horizon,' 'Global Business and Organisational Excellence,' and other media, as well as being the author of a research report for GOAL/QPC on Strategic Planning for education titled Closing the Loop, and co-author of an implementation workbook on Institutional Effectiveness. His work has been cited in Fast Company, Making It Happen: Stories from Inside the New Workplace, A Fieldguide for Focused Planning, and Breakthrough Leadership, as well as being nominated for the national Shingo Prize for Excellence in Research. His work has been cited in more than fifty research papers and journals.

Rieley has developed curricula in the areas of organisational behaviours, organisational learning, leadership development, Systems Thinking, community building, systems thinking archetype applications, and strategy. He has facilitated training sessions for both internal and external clients, including: the Five Disciplines of Organisational Learning, Building Leadership Capacity, Advanced Facilitation Methods and Tools, Change Enablement, the Seven Management and Planning Tools, A Systems Thinking Mindset, Constructing Causal Loop Diagrams with Visio, Using a Vision Deployment Matrix to Enhance Personal and Organisational Capacity, and, The DNA of Organisational Culture.

Rieley is certified by the Covey Leadership Center in the Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, and was the founder of the Southeast Wisconsin Organisational Learning Consortium (SEWOLC). He has taught at the college and university levels for institutions both in the United Kingdom and the United States. He is the author of Gaming the System, (The Financial Times/Prentice Hall, 2001), Plain Talk About Business Performance (Pen Press, 2004), Leadership (Hodder, 2006), Strategy and Performance (Hodder, 2006), and Change and Crisis Management (Hodder, 2006). In addition, he is the author of the weekly subscription newsletter, "Plain Talk about Business Performance."

Dr. James B. Rieley
jbrieley@rieley.com
www.rieley.com